TO THE PUBLIC.

When we consider the personal qualities of the statesmen whose names are affixed to the Declaration of Independence, the perilous occasion which demanded the exercise of their wisdom and deliberation, and the influence of their councils on the interests of mankind, we must acknowledge that very rarely a more imposing spectacle has been offered to the world, and we shall seek in vain in the annals of nations, for an event more worthy of commemoration, and of being cherished forever in the hearts of a grateful and generous people. The love of independence is interwoven with the frame and constitution of the human mind. It is almost the first sentiment that animates the infant's features in the cradle; and amongst all the actions and enterprizes of man, none has awaked into activity a greater exertion of the virtuous energies of his nature, none has excited a greater warmth of veneration, and has more imperious claims upon our gratitude, than resistance to tyranny and political aggression.

In all republican states the first tribute of genius has been paid to the patriot or the hero who has promoted the cause of liberty and maintained the independence and dignity of man. The animated canvas and breathing marble have rescued his features from the grasp of death, and the pen of the historian has inscribed the achievements to the imperishable records of fame. It would indeed be no favorable prognostic of the perpetuity of our republican institutions to discover an insensibility to the obligations we owe the memory of the illustrious patrons of American freedom. They have raised us, by their magnanimity, from the arbitrary dominion of a foreign power, to the distinguished elevation of a sovereign and independent people; they have asserted and maintained the imprescriptible rights of humanity by the "mutual pledge of their pledge of their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honors;" and, as long as virtue holds her empire in the hearts of their successors, the example of these generous benefactors will not be lost to the world; their names will not pass away nor be forgotten, or their glorious deeds be confounded in the common and casual transaction of life.—Ingratitude is a vice that in nations, as well as individuals, indicates the last degree of degeneracy and corruption; it is a vice that implies the absence of every virtue; it was in the age of Caligula that the name of the Scipios was proscribed, that the state of Brutus brought death on its possessor.

"The glory of our ancestors is the light of posterity," and the homage of the living cannot be offered to the merits of the illustrious dead with an effectual or sterile admiration. Great and splendid actions will seldom be achieved by men who have humble or ordinary objects in prospect. It is by contemplating the life and character of those who are marked out from the multitude by their eminent qualities, that we become emulous of their virtues and their renown. The trophies of Miltiades interrupted the sleeps of Themistocles; and Theseus, hearing the exploits of Hercules, was fired with his spirit, and became the successful rival of his fame. The rude savage of the desert listens with rapture to the deeds of his ancestors, and hangs around his hut the emblems of his father's valour.

More need not be said to enforce the utility of the publication we have undertaken, and which we now submit to the patronage of our fellow-citizens. with a hope, that from the liberality of their encouragement, we shall be able to present it to the public worthy of their approbation. We must depend for the illustration of many of the characters of our biography, upon the generosity of their surviving relatives and friends, to furnish us with whatever interesting materials may be in their possession; for which, with our grateful acknowledgments, we promise a copy of the entire work as a compensation.

CONDITIONS.

I. The work will be published in numbers or half volumes of 200 pages, octavo, and contained in ten numbers. To the first will be prefixed an appropriate frontispiece—and the work will be commenced with the declaration of independence, with engraved fac similes of the signatures, and a compendious detail of the proceedings of congress, during the passage of the law. Each of the lives, unless when it is impracticable, will be preceded by a likeness of the person, engraved by the best artists in the United States.

II. It will be printed on fine paper, made expressly for the purpose, and delivered to subscribers at two dollars and fifty cents per number, payable on delivery.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 1819.

The New-Orleans Courier of the 16th ult. contains a long account of a run on the Planters' Bank of that city, on the Saturday previous. It appears that the Cashier, Mr. Bailly Blanchard, took his usual walk after bank business on Friday—and not returning that evening or night, a report prevailed on Saturday morning that he had gone off with a large amount of the funds of the institution. In consequence of this, "a run for dollars" took place. "All the notes (adds the Courier) that were presented were redeemed on the spot. However, the number of applications for dollars became so great, that the activity of the teller could not satisfy them all. The counter was assailed on all sides, and the mob were about to throw themselves upon the boxes of dollars, which had been prepared to satisfy the thirst of money, when the arrival of a detachment of the city guard put an end to the scene of confusion."

"Although the Planters' Bank had in its vaults specie enough to meet all demands, nevertheless to appease the fears of those individuals who thought they were on the eve of being ruined, and besides the vault being encumbered, it accepted the offers of the other banks and received 10,000 dollars from the U. S. Branch Bank, 20,000 from the State Bank, and 10,000 from the Louisiana Bank. The arrival of those funds quieted the apprehensions of the public, and in order to satisfy every body, two tellers were charged to deliver specie for notes and in less than two hours every body was satisfied."

The sums paid in specie amount to about 18,000 dollars. No positive information has yet been obtained relative to the cashier.—Although the general conjecture is that he had fallen into the river, the editor of the Courier gives it as his opinion that he had been assassinated. His hat, found on the Levee on Saturday morning, leaves but little doubt of his tragical end. [Balt. Amer.

Jonathan Pinkney, Jun. Cashier of the City Bank, has been appointed Cashier of the Union Bank of Maryland, in the place of Thomas Ellicott, resigned. [Ibid.

From Natchez, under date of the 19th ult. we learn, that the pestilence by which that city has been visited, had not in the least abated of its virulence. Taking into consideration the reduced number of the present population, the preceding Friday was the most fatal day in the season; there having been on that day NINE interments of white adults. The cold weather was expected speedily to purify the atmosphere; but, meanwhile, the physicians, (two of whom only remain in the city,) recommend that the absent families should not, for the present, return. It is noticed, in the Mississippi Republican, as a singular coincidence, that, on the 14th October, 1817, was the greatest number of burials in that year, amounting in number to 17, out of a population four times as numerous as the present population of Natchez. —— [Nat. Int.

A letter from Lexington, Ky. dated the 1st inst. states the price of Wheat there, to be 50 cents per bushel, Corn, 1 dollar 75 cents per barrel.

In this state, particularly on the Eastern shore, the crop of corn this year will be very small. Potatoes also are scarce and of a bad quality; it is probable therefore, that there will be a good market here for both those articles. —— [Fed. Rep.

Extract of a letter from Cayenne to a gentleman in Baltimore, dated 6th Oct.

"Cayenne at last begins to feel her importance in the rank of French Colonies—We do not hesitate to assert that she will at some future day take the lead. Her exports for the last year consisted of Cursed as the colony has been for a series of administrations entirely ignorant, or wilfully corrupted, it is really astonishing that Cayenne is still in existence—the mother country appears to turn her attention this way; and in lately recalling the Comte Corra St. Cyr, and appointing Mr. De Lausant to the government of French Guyanna, has given a pledge of the interest she takes in our destinies.

Since the arrival of Mr. De Lausant every things wears a new appearance—l'Espionage of the last administrator with all its concomitants has entirely ceased. Society appears as relieved from an oppressive weight; and every thing announces, that in our present governor this country will find a father, and its commerce a protector."

MURDER AND SENTENCE OF DEATH.

On Thursday last, Lucy, a colored woman, the property of Thomas Batton, was tried at Lewis county court-house, by the magistrates of that county, and sentenced to death, to be hung on the 14th day of February next. The crime she was charged with was the murdering of her infant child. Comment on the atrocity of the crime is unnecessary. A mother murdering the offspring of her womb, almost as soon as it saw the light of day; oh, inhuman! oh, monstrous! Servants take warning by the fate of Lucy. Know that vice will be punished, justice will overtake you either in this world or the world to come.

The evidence against Lucy was sufficiently strong to convict here: It appeared that she delivered herself of the child in the woods and then abandoned it to its fate—some marks of violence were discovered by the inquest—the child was a mulatto.

The sentence was pronounced by Edward Jackson, Esq. in a solemn and impressive manner. A petition was handed about immediately after the sentence was pronounced, for her reprieve, which was signed by nearly all the people, among which were two of the magistrates that condemned her.

PAINE'S BONES.

The following is a letter from Mr. Benbow, on the subject: New-York, Oct. 9.

SIR—In answer to numerous questions relative to the removal of the bones of (as I conceive) the greatest man of the age, in which he lived, who lay in a state of degradation, and whom, as an Englishman, I claim as my countryman:—I have to say, we mean to raise a colossal statute to his memory, which will prove to you, in the first place, the value we, as Englishmen, set upon the merits of Mr. Payne; and, on the other hand will prove to you, as Americans, your ingratitude, neglecting, as you have done, the man who had done more, ten times told, than any other person towards emancipating America from British slavery.—However, Mr. Paine's remains are gone to the land where they will be honored—and, being instrumental in the removal, forms one of the happiest periods of my life. I follow him with pleasure, I shall see his remains receive the reward of his merits, which, at least, ought to be given to whom it is due. WILLIAM BENBOW.

New-York, Nov. 16

We regret to announce that ROBT. JENKINS, Esq. Mayor of Hudson, died, on Wednesday last, on board the sl. John Hancock, on his passage home from this city.—He sailed on Tuesday, and in the evening of the same day was knocked overboard by the boom in a squall. He was rescued from the water, but so severely injured, that he survived the accident only about 24 hours. On Thursday, his remains were taken from the sloop to the steam boat, on her passage up, and conveyed to his afflicted family.

FROM NEW-ORLEANS.

Capt. Lyle, of the brig Commodore Barry, who arrived this morning in 10 days from the Balize, and 23 fr. N. Orleans, has favored us with the Louisiana Gazette of the 21st and 22d Oct.. We understand, that the N. Orleans Gazette of the 21st brought by the same arrival, (but which we have not seen,) mentions that a large number of Spanish troops, supposed about 2,000, have landed at Pensacola

The Louisiana Gazette of the 21st states that the sickness at Port Gibson had in a degree subsided. [Com. Adv.

By the Commodore Barry we have received N. Orleans papers of the 21st ult. by which we perceive, that the body of BAILEY BLANCHARD, Cashier of the Planters' Bank, who had been missing since the 15th ult. was found at the English Turn on the 20th. No conjectures are offered. [Gazette.

SINGULAR.

A gentleman in the neighborhood of this town, having three snakes, viz a Rattlesnake a Black Viper and a Spotted Viper, confined in a cage, with the intent to take them with him to a foreign shore, caught a mouse and put it alive into the cage, to serve the snakes for food, before entering into a torpid state. The mouse gave evident symptoms of fear, when first put in: but judge of the astonishment of the gentleman, on finding a short time afterwards, that the mouse instead of being eaten, had actually devoured the Spotted Viper—having decapitated it as adroitly, and as completely as if it had undergone the operation of a French Guillotine!—This is the more singular from the circumstance of their having been wheat, meat, &c. in the cage to keep the mouse in existence, until some of the snakes choose to make a meal of it; but it appears that the biter has been bitten, and the charmer charmed.

It is stated in a Buffalo paper that the Indians of the six nations have lately held two councils upon the proposals made to them by government to establish schools among them and other improvements. Their debates were warm, and for a time violent. But the pagan part, which compose a large majority and who have heretofore strenuously opposed christianity or civilization, yielded in a measure to the views, of the christian party, and agreed to accept of the proposals of government. Many of their principal leaders seem to be entirely changed in sentiment;—and to those, who have known their former inveteracy to the arts of the civilized life, this revolution appears surprising.

DARING OUTRAGE.

On Thursday evening last as Mr. Wm. Teel of Rhinebeck, was returning home fr. this village in a gig, he observed about one and a half miles this side of the Flatts, 3 horses standing by the road side. It being quite dark, he leaned forward as he passed the horses to see if he could discover any person with them. At that instant a gun was fired at him, the ball from which he distinctly heard whilstle past his head. He drove to the Flatts, and found on examination, that the ball had passed through the top of his carriage, in such a direction, as to leave little doubt, that it would have proved fatal, if he had been sitting up in his usual position. Mr. Teel had with him about four hundred dollars, which he had got exchanged at the bank while here, for a gentleman in Rhinebeck It is presumed the perpetrators of this outrage must have known of his having the money, and designed to have robbed him. [Poughkeepsie Journal.

From the Boston Intelligencer.

Mr. Walsh's vindication of this country against the slanders of British Statesmen, travellers, and reviewers, is an honorable specimen of his abilities and industry. The ardency of his feelings, as well as the justice of his cause has perhaps betrayed into occasional intemperance of expression, which the peculiar nature of the discussion should have induced him to restrain. Besides his refutation of several gross falsehoods, we were particularly pleased with his chapters upon the Edinburg and Quarterly Reviews, exposing their inconsistency with themselves and with each other—their misrepresentations, ignorance and malevolence. But after all the style of invective which these journals have adopted, with regard to the U. States, is only a proof of rising importance, as a nation. Leave us then to our natural increase in population, learning and civilization, and "the blood of Douglass will be able to protect itself."

DRAM DRINKING.

There has been in all governments a great deal of absurd canting about the consumption of spirits. We believe the best plan is to let people drink what they like, and wear what they like; to make no sumptuary laws either for the belly or the back. In the first place, laws against rum and water are made by men who can change a wet coat for a dry one whenever they choose, and who do not often work up to their knees in mud and water; and, in the next place, if this stimulus did all the mischief is tho't to do by the wise men of claret, its cheapness and plenty would rather lessen than increase the avidity with which it is at present sought for. Again, human life is subject to such manifold wretchedness, that all nations have invented a soothing liquid or solid to produce a brief oblivion. Poppies, barley, grasses, sugar, pepper, and a thousand other things have been squeezed, pressed, pounded and purified to produce this temporary happiness. Noblemen and members of parliament, have large cellars full of sealed bottles, to enable them the better to endure the wretchedness of life. The poor man seeks the same end by spending three half pence in gin; but no moralist can endure the idea of gin. [Edinburg Review.

The following particulars of the governor's last moments are from the Missionary:

On Saturday, a little more than a week before de died, he complained of a slight indisposition. On the sabbath his indisposition continued; but on Monday he was so well as to visit Milledgeville on public business. Tuesday was spent at the state house in the discharge of his official duties. During the two following days he was confined to his room. On Friday he returned in a carriage to his family and home, 35 miles—and was thought much better in the evening. After writing a letter, Saturday morning, to his secretary in Milledgeville, he was seized with a violent ague, which produced much concern respecting the final result of his disease. His fever now assumed the typhus form. During the day it was evident, that he expected soon to be called to eternity—though he sometimes endeavored to quiet his family by expressing a probability, that he might soon be better. He seemed calm and resigned to his fate. At one time he repeated the words of good old Simeon: "Lord, now lettest thou servant depart in peace, according to thy salvation; for mine eyes have seen thy salvation." At evening he began to be covered with the cold sweat of death! At times his ideas appeared to be wild and scattered; but about 2 hours before he died, he became perfectly rational—mentioned his only son, a lad about 12 years of age, with christian solicitude—said to the doctor who enquired how he felt, that he was easy—and in a few moments expired. "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord."

The following account of the sudden termination of the honorable life of governor Strong, is taken from a letter dated at Northampton, Nov. 8.

"Governor STRONG, died last evening of agina pectoris. For several years he has, by turns, had the complaint severely. Yesterday he was at church at both services. In the afternoon he felt a slight pain in the chest, which at 6 o'clock in the evening became so distressing, that he directed his physician to be called in immediately. The physician was from home, and did not see him until 7 o'clock. He was then easier, and proposed to get off his bed and exchange his clothes for a night gown. The physician retired to another room from which he was instantly retired to another room from which he was instantly summoned, and found his patient sunk in his chair and dead. All attempts to resuscitate him were fruitless—his spirit had gone above. We are all busily employed in preparing to pay our last tribute of respect to this great and good man, and I need not tell you there is but one feeling. Thursday is appointed for his funeral. So sudden was his death, that his indisposition was not known out of his family, and there was no one with him when he expired but his two sons."

From the National Advocate.

DOMESTIC ECONOMY.

Seated on my couch a few days ago, in a meditative mood, my old servant Nicholas brought me two printed letters, having the character of circulars. The one was as brief, as a poesy in a ring, but not quite so affectionate, it merely stated that a gentleman of our Bar was a scoundrel, and another gentleman of the Bar signed his name to it; meaning thereby, to stamp it with features of authenticity, as if the assertions of one man could prove the other to be a scoundrel. The other letter was likewise printed, and gave the origin and progress of the dispute, which in my mind, placed the gentleman who ventured upon the broad assertion in rather an awkward predicament; but as I esteem it impertinent for individuals to trouble the community with their petty disputes, I gave them to Nicholas leaving it entirely to his fancy, as to their disposal. I could not, however, but reflect on how many serious disputes, attended also with fatal consequences, are produced by a want of courtesy, by an insolent, domineering and haughty tone among men assembled for business or pleasure.

It has always appeared extraordinary to me, why man should be so perverse as to adopt a repulsive or insolent manner, in his intercourse with his fellowmen. Surely, if to be esteemed, respected and beloved, be worth an effort, that effort should be a courteous one. Whatever difference exists in the ranks of individuals, there is in man an innate spirit which cannot brook contempt, and he who can tamely submit to it is unworthy of the name. Men in power, men of wealth and high pretensions, are to apt to forget the respect due to those to whom fortune has not been bountiful. they acquire or assume a factitious air of superiority, which the power and wealth cannot bestow, that leads to disputes, and disputes frequently produce fatal results. There is but one rule which has presented itself to my mind, whereby a proud, contumelious, or impertinent man can be fairly put down, and that is, by shunning him, having no intercourse with such a person, and if the pressing call of business brings you in contact with him, treat him with uncommon politeness, shunning in all cases, every thing wearing the appearance of familiarity, and terminating, as soon as possible, all conferences between you; this is a wholesome and safe regimen for arrogance and dictation. Proscribe the man and solitude will cure him; for harsh measures and retaliation are dangerous experiments, you ruffle your own temper, produce unnecessary excitement, and throw yourself in the breach of danger by placing yourself on his level, to show, what is very unnecessary, that you possess equal spirit.

Of all the despicable shifts by which one man, to accomplish selfish objects, wishes to injure another, that one, familiarly called 'posting,' is most contemptible.

Your declaration that a man is a coward and a scoundrel, because he will not fight you, does not necessarily make him so. I have known many cowards to fight duels; plain, palpable, unconditional cowards, with hearts no bigger than a pigeon's; men actually afraid of the sneers of some dozen dandies, who tremble at the cold glances of the beau monde, and the pert toss of the head of Miss Nancy, who can't abide the fellow because he wouldn't fight Master Jackey; and these heroes have gone to the field, very ridiculously called the field of honor, shut their eyes, fired their pistols at random, and, if a bullet grazes their skins, they have fainted at the sight of their own blood and been carried home, and ever after have passed for valiant men. "My conscience," Bailie Nicol Jarvie says, that the world is so blind as to attach consequence and character to such fictitious efforts of bravery. the man of true courage never insults or receives an insult with impunity: he is too proud, too honorable, to say any thing hurtful to the feelings of another; and if he is treated with arrogance or innocence, he resents it on the spot—the feelings of nature are outraged, and nature's kind mother furnishes the redress: he does not go home, meditate and ease his boiling fury with writing a note, sending it to the printer, and declaring that he who insulted him was a scoundrel. Such a mode of redress is, to say the least of it, very harmless and inefficient. But it may be asked, do not men of courage sometimes fight duels? Yes, but it is not the proof of courage, for cowards also fight, and the trivial causes which so frequently give rise to these meetings, are arguments against fighting, for there is just as much merit in killing your antagonist, because he sneezed too loud, as would exist for a deep and cruel injury, the redress is the same in both cases, and the consequences are likewise the same; this inequality in causes and equality in effects, shows too plainly, that there is no reason or justice in such appeals. We hear much said about religion, laws of the land, distress of families; these great considerations appear to have but little weight, the order of things must be changed, duelling must be considered a cowardly resort and be brought into disrepute; and we may ask, where is the courage of a man, who receives, an insult and does not resent it on the spot, who suffers his aggressor to escape the eminent disgrace of a blow, be it ever so slight, and who takes a cool method of easing or redressing his wrongs, by penning a challenge cautiously, to avoid the law which he fears, and who, if his opponent will not fight, he posts as a coward with infinite gratification, and then flaps his wings, and "crows like Chanticleer." No, this is false honor. In all your intercourse with mankind, whether official or personal, be mild and conciliatory, temperate and firm, and if by chance you come in contact with a rude, ill mannered and insolent person, and he treats you ill, ever after shun that person; and if mankind would unite in adopting this course, the punishment would be greater than pride could bear. HOWARD.

100 Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY on the 25th of April last, a man called NED, formerly the property of Mr. Fitzhugh, of Fairfax, and by him sold to Hepburn & Dundas. He had on when he went away an old country blue and white cloth coat, and kersey trowsers—his right hand in a sling, in consequence of the kick of a horse. Ned is a stupid looking fellow, and hesitates very much when he speaks. I will give fifty dollars if apprehended in the District, or the above reward for apprehending him out of the District, so that I get him again.

Fifty Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY from the subscriber, on Thursday, the 11th inst. a negro man, named DICK, who sometimes calls himself Dick Douglas. He is a small man about 5 feet 6 inches high, and is not a very black man. I purchased him from the estate of Edgar McCarty, esq. Cedar Grove, Fairfax county, Va. and it is likely that he may be lurking about that neighborhood or Colchester, as he has a wife at capt. Berry's of the latter place; or he may have gone to Loudoun county, as he has lived there in the neighborhood of Wm. McCarty and John McCarty, near Leesburg. He had on and took with him an old grey cloth coat and a brown do pantaloons of drab colored domestic cloth. He is much addicted to liquor, and is a coarse shoemaker. I will give 20 dollars if taken in the district of Columbia. Thirty dollars if taken in Fairfax county, and the above reward if apprehended in any other place, and secured so that I get him again; and reasonable charges if brought home. WM. B. STUART.

Fifty Dollars Reward.

RAN away from the subscriber living in King George's county Va. on Monday the 22nd March, a yellow man named about 22 years of age, his fore teeth wide apart, and cannot speak very quick—had on Virginia cloth clothes and carried off a shaggy great coat, he has a father named Peter Hall, who lives with the widow Morgan, at Oak Hill, Fauquier Co. and his grandfather, old Frederick Hall, is supposed to be living at Mr. Terrett's near Alexandria, and it is likely he may be lurking about there.—I will give the above reward for apprehending and securing said fellow so that I get him again, and reasonable charges if brought home. ### 100 Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY from the subscriber, living near Aldie, Loudoun county, Virginia, on the night of the 11th inst. a negro man, who calls his name NED BURGES. He is a shrewd, intelligent negro, about 5 feet 7 or 8 inches high; 30 years of age, well made, active and polite. Had on when he went away, a sky colored coat, and corded pantaloons. His right eye sore, apparently occasioned by a blow, the blood having settled around it. His ears have been pierced, and had green silk in them when he went away. It is expected he is now lurking about Fairfax court-house and Aldie. The above Ned Burges ran away on the night of the 25th of last Aug and was caught on the 11th inst. on the night of which he effected his elopement by drawing the staple to which he was fastened by the handle of a pan, while there was no person in the kitchen but himself. He was caught on the 11th inst. a few miles below Aldie, but I think it improbable that he has gone near the same place again. I will give 100 dollars if he is taken out of the county, and fifty if taken in the county, and secured so that I get him again, and all reasonable charges if brought home. GEO. GULICK.

P. S. It is supposed that the said negro has obtained papers of freedom, or a free pass, or something of the kind. G. G.

100 Dollars Reward.

I WILL give the above reward to any person who will return to my possession, negro LAWRENCE, who assumes the sirname of FENWICK. This fellow left my farm, on the Wicomico river, in Charles county, Md. on the 6th July, in consequence of his own outrageous conduct towards my overseer. He is a negro of a fine erect figure, good features, asmooth black skin, rather above the middle stature, of a youthful appearance for one of thirty years of age, and of great plausibility and natural smartness. His ears grow remarkably close to his head, and on the inside of his lower lip he has a white mark or spot. I purchased him 4 years ago of the estate of Mrs. P. H. Courts, of this county. I am led (by circumstances which have come to my knowledge since he absconded,) to believe that he will endeavor to make his way to King George county, Va.; should he not take this route, he will probably be met with in the District of Columbia, or in the upper counties of this state, on his way to Pennsylvania. I apprehend he will change his name, and if committed to jail, refuse to state to whom he belongs, as the misconduct which preceded his departure, & his absconding, have all appeared since to have been premeditated. He took all his clothes with him, of which he had a large number; among them—a new bearskin over-coat, a long close-bodied blue coat, a pair of striped jean pantaloons, one or more white waistcoats, besides many articles of coarse cloathing; these, however, he will probably exchange, or sell them for cash to defray his travelling expenses.

I will give the above reward to any person who will bring him home to me, or FIFTY DOLLARS if confined in jail, and notice given me, so that I recover him.—Should he be taken out of the state, I will also pay all reasonable costs and charges which may attend the bringing him home.

I. T. STODDERT,

West Hatton, near Allen's Fresh Post-Office, Charles county, Maryland.

S. Drew, Merchant Tailor,

Removed from Fairfax-street to the corner of King and Columbus streets, and has prices falling,

RESPECTFULLY acquaints his customers and the citizens in general that he has removed as above, where he will study to give satisfaction. He has by him a small but well assorted stock of goods, which will be found on inspection to be of the best quality, the whole of which he wishes to sell low for cash, and as further inducements to purchasers he offers to cut out any goods, bought of him to any size or pattern gratis.

S. Drew aware, of the advantage a ready money business has over one where long credit is given, thinks that a distinction ought to be made in the prices in each case: and as the price of provisions are low at present, he is glad to be able to announce to those customers who will feel disposed to pay him ready money for his work, that he will reduce the price of making to them according to the present journeymen's wages; and to prevent any supposed imposition on the one hand or disatisfaction on the other he is willing to be goverued by the printed regulations of prices by which the journeymen are paid in Alexandria.

N. B. Bread, flour, beef, groceries, liquors or any thing valuable taken in exchange for clothes.

S. Drew has this day opened a tavern in the same house, where he has laid in a supply of Philadelphia and the district porter and ale, together with liquors of the best quality, and he feels confident that he shall be able to give satisfaction to all who will please to favor him with a call.—He is fitting up his house for the accommodation of boarders, travellers, &c. and from its central situation, good beds and stabling, together with other requisites, he presumes that it will be found a convenient establishment.

100 Dollars Reward.

RAN away on the 28th of April, from the farm of the subscriber, in Dogue Neck, Fairfax Co. Virginia, negro HARRY, aged about twenty three years, about five feet ten inches high, very black, well built, has a considerable impediment in his speech, when spoken to evinces much confusion, and replies almost unintelligibly; had on when he left home, a much worn suit of domestic cloth. I have every reason to believe that he is endeavoring to pass for a free man, and as such went off in some of the bay craft during the late fishing season. All masters of vessels are forewarned from harboring or taking into their employ said negro, under penalty of having the law rigidly enforced against them. I will give twenty dollars, if taken in the county of Fairfax, or district of Columbia; if beyond that distance, the above reward, provided he is secured in jail so that I get him again. WM. MASON.

The editors of the National Intelligencer and Baltimore Federal Gazette will insert the above until forbid, and send their accounts to Port Tobacco for payment.
